After Eurasian Soil Congress 2015

Sochi, Russia

Preface

A big congress of the Federation of Eurasian Soil Science Societies between 19 and 23 October 2015 was held in the sanatorium of "Sochi" with the attention of 128 soil scientists from different countries (Russia, Turkey, Azerbaijan, Kazakhstan, Uzbekistan, Brazil, Croatia, Portugal and others) all over the world.

The first Congress of the Federation of Eurasian Soil Science Societies was taken place in Side Antalya-Turkey, 2014. After the Chairmanship of the Federation passed to Russian Soil Science Society in 2015, the Congress organized by the Federation of Eurasian Soil Science Societies, Faculty of Soil Science and Dokuchaev Soil Science Society of Russia, was called: "Soil Science in the International Year of Soils 2015" due to a big event approved this year by the General Assembly of the United Nations' "World Year of The Soil". The congress had a scientific and organizational direction and was dedicated to scientific reports on the development of new approaches, methods and trends in soil science, soil contemporary issues and challenges faced by our science. The president of congress was a Professor of our faculty Evgeny SHEIN, Vice President – Vladimir GONCHAROV, Professor of Moscow State University, Scientific Secretary of the Congress - Professor Aminat UMAROVA (Moscow State University), Secretary - Associate Dolgor KHAYDAPOVA (Moscow State University). When you look also to the scientific program of the Congress - you will realize that many of scientists, young colleagues made interesting presentations at this international event, presented poster presentations, participated in scientific tours and round tables. The level of the Congress has been very high. Take a look at the topic and the names of speakers in plenary section: Nicolay PANIKOV (Immunology & Inf. Diseases Dept., Harvard School of Public Health, US) reported the topic: "Soil Organic Matter: New Paradigm is Needed", Amrakh MAMEDOV (Institute of Soil Science & Agrochemistry, and Institute of Botany, ANAS, Baku, Azerbaijan) "Soil structure stability and erosion in a semi-arid agro-ecosystem", Coşkun GÜLSER (Ondokuz Mayıs University, Faculty of Agriculture, Department of Soil Science and Plant Nutrition, Samsun, Turkey) "Physical, Chemical and Biological Attributes in Soil Quality" and Pavel KRASILNIKOV (Moscow State University, Russia) "Food Security and Land Degradation".

All the participants of Congress noted a consistently high level, greater interest and willingness to share their views with new data and procedures for the meetings, excursions, during the discussion of poster papers for all 4 days of the Congress quickly passed. I'd add that the situation was extremely frank, friendly and joyful. The impression was created that met old friends who have not seen each other, and they have accumulated so many stories, stories and impressions that the time was not enough for communication. And so it was. At the end of the Congress, I caught myself on the fact that the appeal to the head of the Turkish delegation to Ridvan KIZILKAYA already in Russian, forgetting completely that he does not understand in Russian. But it is quite clear - we have become so close friends and colleagues frank, not more and more eager to discuss all scientific events with his colleagues. Good organization, friendly atmosphere, smiling friendly attitude of all the participants of the Congress was largely obliged to our young colleagues from the department of physics and soil improvement from Moscow State University. Thanks you very much!
